We are going to do things a little different this year. We know teams are looking to play and we want to be as flexible as possible. When we have interest in an age group we will select a coordinator to put together a schedule that is most agreeable to the teams that express a desire to play. You can play in a tournament format – play multiple games in one day or set up a league that plays every Sunday evening. You pay per the number of games you play. We would like teams to sign up for a least 4 games as possible and if the weather cooperates you can play as many as you want.

Like I started with – it’s different but what part of the last two winter seasons made sense with all the weather cancellations.

Bottom line – if you want to play let us know and we will you put together some games.
